The ABC's of FieldHaven: acronyms, abbreviations and initialisms

Sometimes there just aren't enough hours in the day to say a whole word. That's why so many people use abbreviations so willingly. Many people talk about 'quotes' instead of 'quotations' and 'info' rather than 'information'. And then there is the acronym, an abbreviation formed from the initial letters of other words and pronounced as a word, like KISS meaning Keep it Simple Stupid. By contrast, an initialism – like OED for Oxford English Dictionary – remains pronounced as separate letters. The acronym creates one handy little word, saving the time needed to say them all individually, and giving you more time to do the important things in life like spending time with our kitties.

Our Junior Volunteers are the Future of FieldHaven

At FieldHaven Feline Center we are providing the means to set a foundation for our Junior Volunteers to be advocates for animal welfare and responsible pet guardianship. They are the future for cats and all animals for decades to come. Here is a sampling of our wonderful junior volunteers who have been helping for several years.

Simone Matecna – Simone has been volunteering since 2008 and we've watched her grow up. She is wise beyond her years and has the most special touch with the cats. Recently Simone received a $400 donation to FieldHaven made in her honor by Soroptimists. She was awarded the donation for time and talents she has given to FieldHaven over the years.

Bobbi VanSant – Bobbie volunteers with her mom, Jennifer and little sister, Sammi. For Bobbi's recent birthday she asked her aunt and uncle to donate to FieldHaven in her name in lieu of a gift. Our girl Bobbi is already on her way to being a wonderful, generous animal advocate! We hope her friends follow in her footsteps.

Jacob Sherer – in 2013 Jacob totally remodeled the FieldHaven office, including both people and kitty furnishings! It is truly a work of art and everyone loves working in it. Jacob did the remodel as his Eagle Scout project and he involved his whole family: mom, dad, grandparents and more!

Michael Fazzino – Michael has been volunteering for 2 years side-by-side with his grandma Deborah. They come like clock-work each week to put the kitties to bed. Michael loves to do play time with the cats, giving them much needed exercise! We all wish we had a grandma like Deborah who introduced us to helping animals in shelters!

Maddie Mareello –We all know people who “fly under the radar” but do huge things to help. Maddie is one of them for sure. She has been coming faithfully to FieldHaven every Monday night for nearly 3 years to tuck the kitties in. Often she comes after everyone has gone home. She slips in to make sure every kitty is tucked in with a clean bed and litter pan and gives one last kiss to everyone before they go to sleep for the night.

Josh Fink – Josh has been coming to FieldHaven with his mom Kory for at least 8 years now. He was only 5 when Kory started volunteering so this is one young man who truly has grown up in the world of animal welfare. How very cool for him – and for the rest of us!
